

Children are at the heart of most families

So when they grow up, make sure there are no heart health secrets kept from them.

Their knowledge of their family heart history is a powerful tool in managing their own adult heart disease risk.

Will you let them down?

www.gored4me.com.au

